Oyster Supper

Baxter, Jan. 17.—To celebrate the birthday anniversary of Milton E. Smith, of Baxter, an elaborate oyster supper was given at his home at Twin-Brook Farm Saturday evening. The affair was planned by Mrs. Smith and daughters and was a complete surprise to Mr. Smith. Old friends and neighbors began to drop in, and it was not until the string band from Baxter arrived that he guessed what was really taking place, and confessed his innocence which more than amused those present. His only regret was that he had not known about it in time to cancel his appointments with the dentist and lawyer in town and order a box of cigars and something spicy for the occasion.

After partaking of the delicious soup, sandwiches, coffee, pickles, salad, celery and other tempting viands, the guests adjourned to the large parlor for a time and listened to excellent music which was furnished by Messrs. Carl and Andy Rudolph with Miss Grace Morris accompanist, and then all joined in singing popular songs and "Bible Sunday hymns." Mr. Smith was then elected tiddler in spite of his protests that he was a "has been." Great hilarity ensued during the revival of old-fashioned games which followed in which all present participated until they were tired out. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Joe Smith and three children, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Smith, Mrs. Leda Coffindaffer and two children, Messrs. Webb Amos, David Cunningham, Patrick Hays, L. C. Robey, W. R. Clayton, Frank Clayton, John Trimmer, Wallace Smith, David Stratton, Henry Longcraft, John and Joe Gladis, and Misses Opal, Dorothy and Evelyn Smith, Marie Toothman and Grace Morris.

Mr. Smith was the recipient of many useful gifts. At a late hour, the guests bid their host and hostess good night, declaring they had never enjoyed themselves more in their lives, and wishing Mr. Smith many more happy birthdays.

Hold Meeting

A meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary of the Heinzelman Post No. 17 was held last evening at the Y. W. C. A. Newly elected officers presided and several interesting events to be held during the year were discussed.

A membership campaign will begin this week ending February 21st. Mrs. Homer C. Toothman and Mrs. Clark Gross were appointed captains for the membership team. At the close of the campaign, a reception for new members will be given by the auxiliary.
